Hey Johnny & Edgardo,

For this coming weekend and the pre-release tourney I will aim to be at the store for 10-10:30AM to start setting up and adding people into TOM for the tournament.

When you have a sec can you email me the Player IDs of the people that will be attending the pre-release?

Also, please let me know when the order comes in this week for Destined Rivals pre-release stuff. The hanging promotional material they send can go out and I can sort and organize the rest on Sunday before the tourney starts.

Is there a printer there that we can use to print match slips? And is there a TV we can use to cast the pairings or we can manually let them know and print them out as well.

For the tables, I am not sure if you have done this yet for any Sunday or Monday meetings but table numbers will be helpful in letting people know where to go as TOM also generates what table they should go to. So if each table seats 20 (10 each side) we would need 1-10 on that table, etc

Anything else leading up to this let me know and I can make myself available to answer

Thanks,

Greg
